

Selecting a Private Teacher

When you feel that your child is ready to pursue private study, choosing the right teacher is of the utmost importance. Be sure to ask any prospective teachers the following questions:

With what age group do you feel you work best?

How much do you charge per hour? Per half hour?

Will you come to my home, or do you have a home teaching studio?

These are just a few suggestions to help you make an informed decision. Below is a selection of highly regarded teachers who may be available. Though this is not a complete listing, it is a great starting off point. Please feel free to call your child's orchestra teacher for any further guidance concerning this matter.
